THE 1947 EL TORNADO

★ ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF ★

★ LAMESA HIGH SCHOOL ★

LAMESA, TEXAS

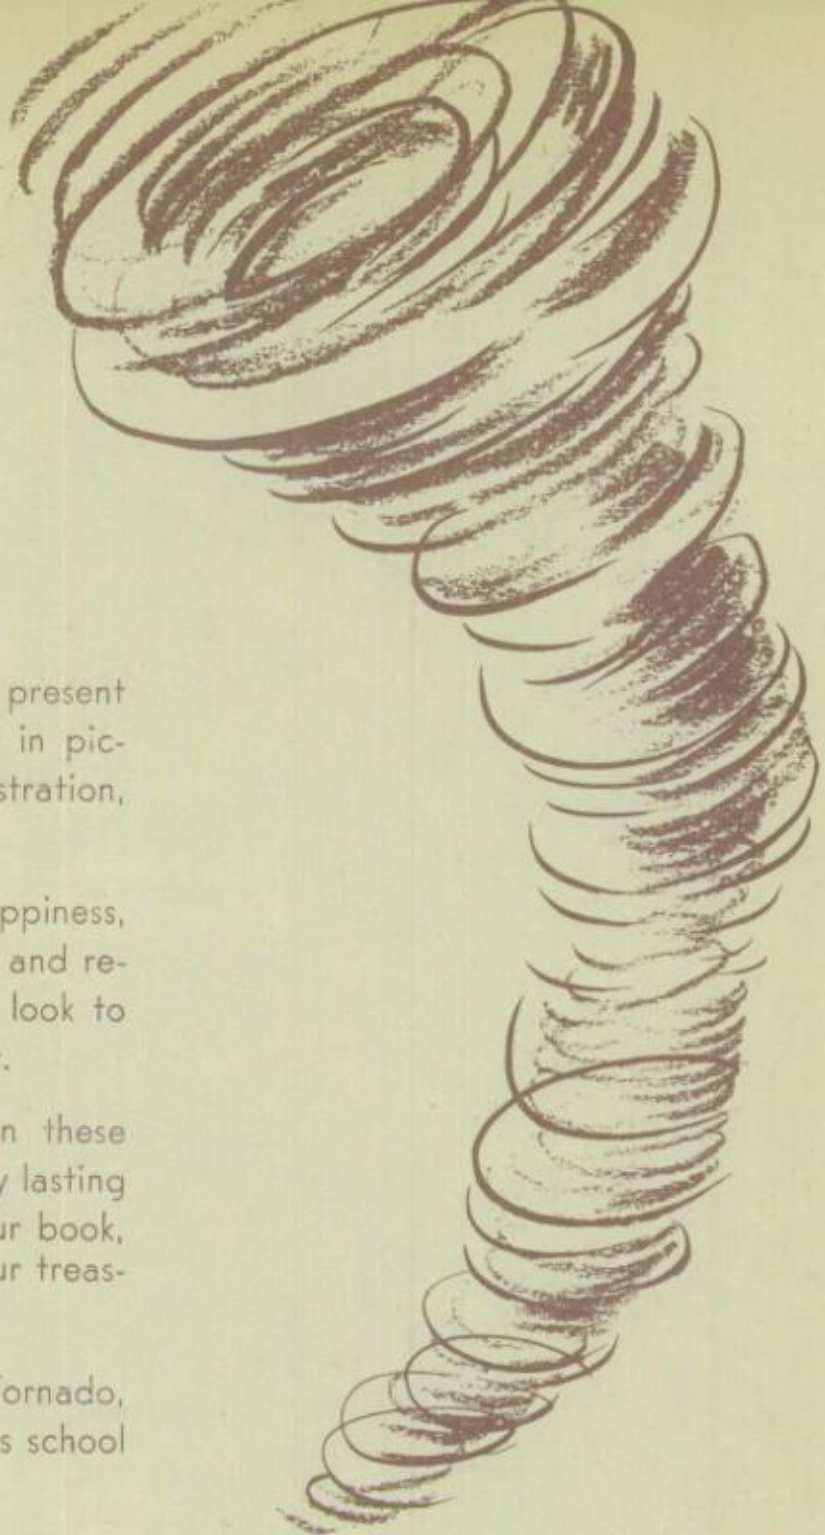

Foreword

Our aim, as makers of this 1947 El Tornado, is to present to you in this, your yearbook, a well-balanced report in pictures and words of our school, the students, the administration, and the school activities during this school year.

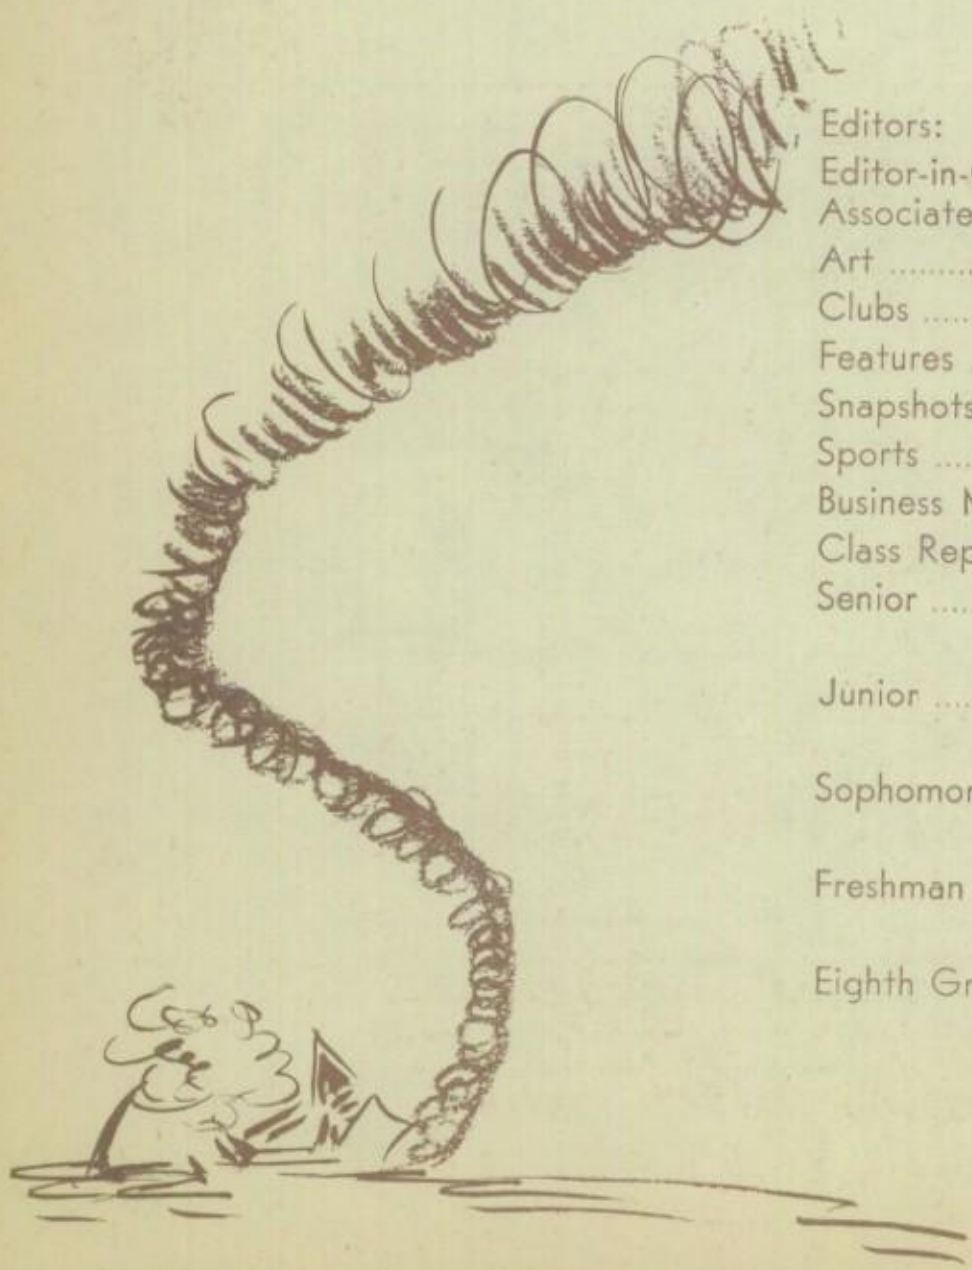

In choosing music as our theme, we find that happiness, romance, and lasting memories can best be expressed and recalled in the years to come in song. We can always look to music to express ourselves, whether we be sad or gay.

We hope that the pictures and words between these covers will bring back, in the many years to come, many lasting and pleasant memories of this school year. This is your book, and we want you to enjoy and cherish it as one of your treasures gained in L.H.S., this year.

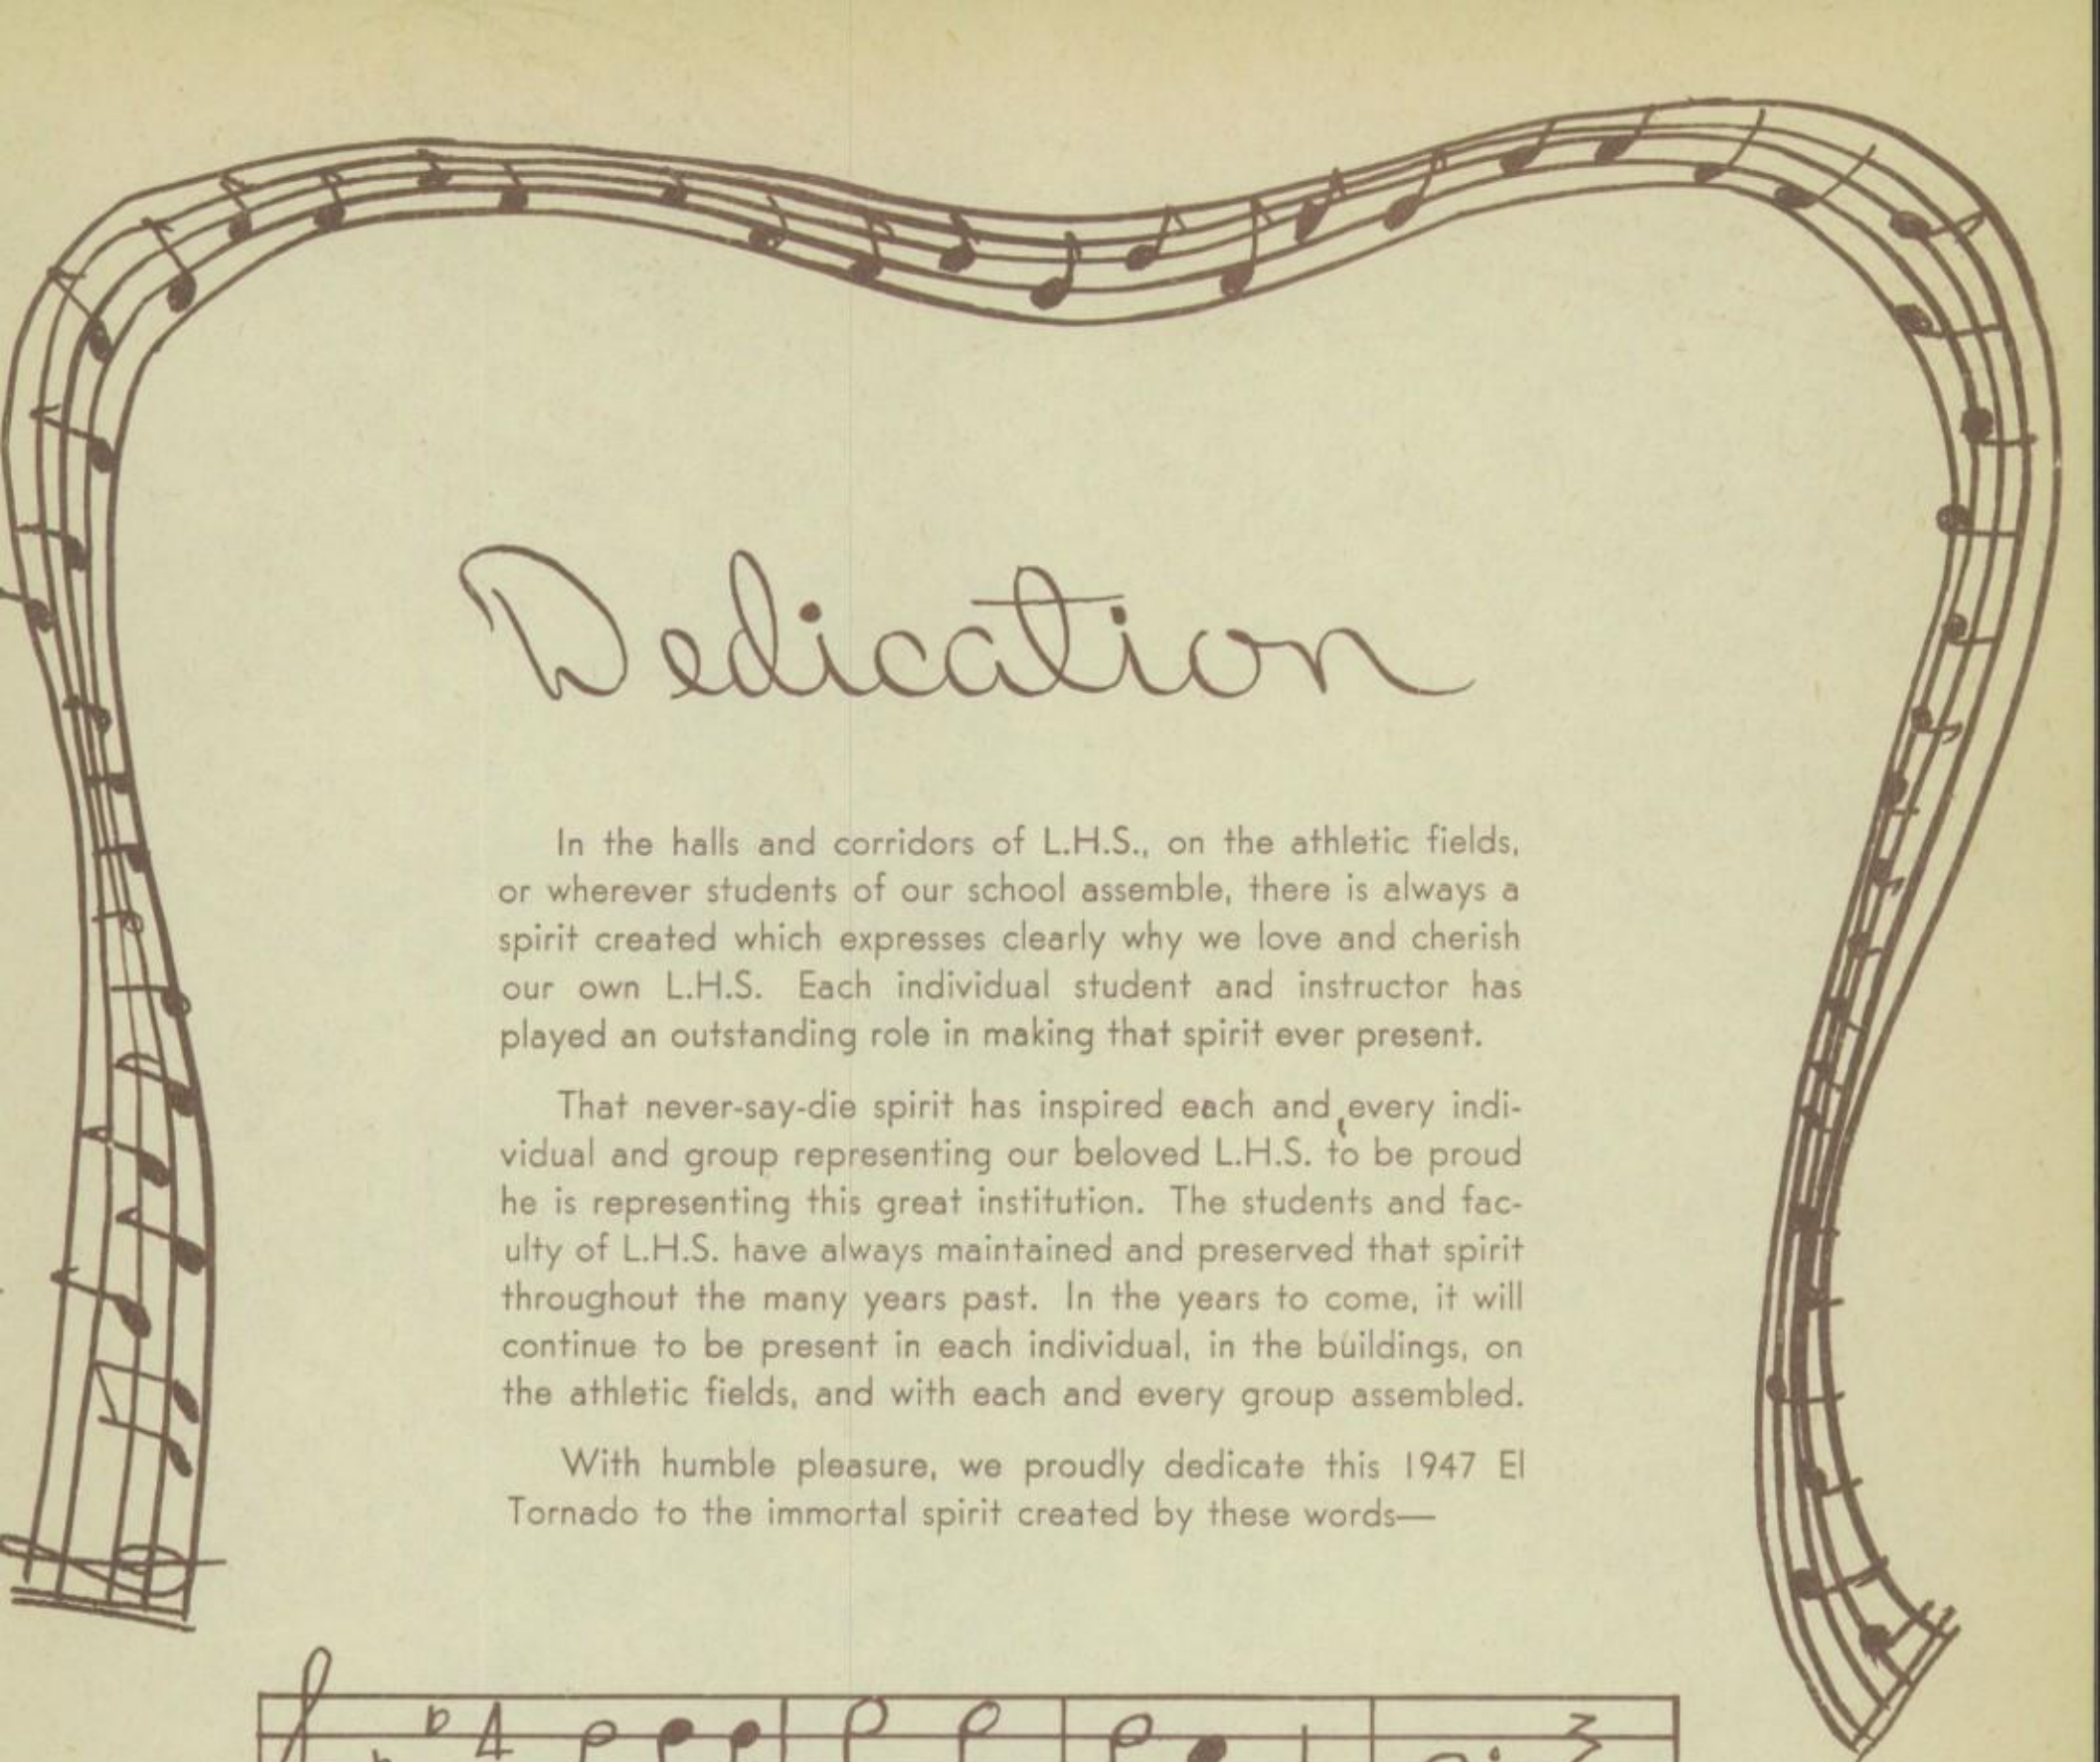

If we can accomplish the above in this 1947 El Tornado, our efforts to bring you an everlasting memorial of this school year will have been successful.

Dedication

In the halls and corridors of L.H.S., on the athletic fields, or wherever students of our school assemble, there is always a spirit created which expresses clearly why we love and cherish our own L.H.S. Each individual student and instructor has played an outstanding role in making that spirit ever present.

That never-say-die spirit has inspired each and every individual and group representing our beloved L.H.S. to be proud he is representing this great institution. The students and faculty of L.H.S. have always maintained and preserved that spirit throughout the many years past. In the years to come, it will continue to be present in each individual, in the buildings, on the athletic fields, and with each and every group assembled.

With humble pleasure, we proudly dedicate this 1947 El Tornado to the immortal spirit created by these words—

Senior Class History

Well, can you believe it? Here we are in our senior year of high school almost ready to graduate. It seems that only yesterday we were carefully dressed by loving mothers and sent to school for the first time. All of us were a little frightened and some of the girls cried, but we grew to love our teachers and classmates. In this first year of school we learned to print, draw, color, read, and after Christmas we learned to write. We spent many happy hours under the direction of Miss Ethyl Barron and Miss Thelma Norman, and Mrs. McCall.

We really strutted when we were promoted to the second grade. After all, we were getting up in the world. We concentrated on conduct, spelling and writing during this second year of school. A notebook was kept, and in it were such stories as Betsy Ross and the making of the first American flag. Our second grade instructors were Mrs. Matt McCall and Mrs. Garvin.

On entering the third grade, we took up two new subjects, geography and health. As a general rule, geography was liked by both boys and girls and health proved most interesting to all of us. It was during our third year of school that we began to give plays, and every year long-legged, snaggle-toothed little girls were dressed as dainty fairies and the boys portrayed elves and gnomes. Ah, but those were the "good old days" All our worries were constituted in three little words—reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic. Our teachers were Miss Brack and Miss Brock.

Every year at the end of school, we went on an all-day picnic to the park.

In the fourth grade we had several teachers, some of whom were Toylee McClinton, Marguerite Flanken, Saliy Dunlap and Mr. and Mrs. Bell.

We were allowed to use the gymnasium and spent many enjoyable hours playing on the equipment.

At this point in our academic career, we began our study of penmanship. Everyone entered a contest and several members were awarded Gregg Penmanship Pins. We also began our studies in music and art. Mrs. Weldon Lindsey instructed the music classes, and Mrs. Azil McClintock instructed the art classes. In the spring, a Music Memory Contest, presided over by Mrs. Lindsey, was held in the music room of the Grammar School. Lamesa competed with various other communities and Janis Hamilton of our class won first place. A Picture Memory Contest was also held with Jean Smith placing first division. The majority of the contestants were pupils of the fourth grade.

Do you remember the fun on Saint Valentine's Day, when awkward boys with changing voices and unruly hair exchanged sweet little verses with their favorite girl-friends?

Yes, there were quite a number of budding romances that year. Ann Johnson and George Hart; John Leuenberger and Onita Esmond; Anne McGuire and Aubrey Bryan Cox. Also Gene Trigg gave all the feminine hearts a good work out.

Being a very enthusiastic class, we gave many plays early in our school career. Some of them were "The Princess Gets a Kitty" a playlet in which Janis Hamilton portrayed the princess and Jimmie Aldridge was the man servant; and "The Wizard of Oz", a playlet in which Jean Smith portrayed Alice and John Leuenberger was the tin man. We always thought our plays were superior to the plays the other grades gave, remember?

We felt capable of real mischief after having reached the seventh grade. That's why the room sounded like a bee hive when the teacher was down the hall.

We had huge May fetes every spring, and one year we portrayed "The Race of Atlanta". It was a gorgeous sight to watch the classes parade and dance as they decorated the May Poles.

The event which surpassed all other events was graduation. It meant leaving the Grammar School and never going back there again for classes. This realization made the boys look sober and quiet and a few tears fell from the girls' eyes.

We shall never forget that first day in high school. Everything was reversed. Instead of the teachers going from room to room, the pupils did the going; and instead of marching in long, orderly lines, everyone ran down the halls like a herd of dumb animals. These congested halls only complicated matters. You not only had to worry about getting to the right room on time, you had to worry about getting there safely. There was one good thing about high school. It wasn't run on the order of a caste system as we had been lead to believe. We must admit, though, that we walked many weary miles carrying seniors' books. As "fish" we chose Norris Barron to be our president and Tommy Allen as vice-president. Class favorites were John Robert Ethridge and Onita Esmond. Dan Terry lead us our sophomore year and Norris Barron presided as vice-president. The position of secretary was allotted to Nancy Hollingsworth. Class favorites of Sophomore year were Marvin Wilson and Nancy Hollingsworth. Ray Womack headed the Junior Class as president and Norris Barron as vice-president. Secretary of the class was Nancy Hollingsworth and Ray Womack and Jimmie Lee Cotten were our class favorites. Outstanding events of the year were the Junior Play, "It's Tough To Be Rich", by James C. Parker which was really a huge success, and the Junior-Senior Banquet to which we had looked forward for so long. Following the Junior-Senior Banquet was the Prom.

And now here we are—seniors at last. We have thoroughly enjoyed every day of our high school years. All those who graduated with us from Grammar School have not remained in our class for various reasons, nevertheless, we feel that we have an outstanding class. J. R. Bizzell is our president, Norris Barron is our vice-president, and Nancy Hollingsworth is our secretary. Jimmie Lee Cotten and J. R. Bizzell reign as favorites in this our final year. One of us, Onita Esmond, was crowned Football Queen. Pat Patterson is Best All-Around Boy and Nancy Hollingsworth is Best All-Round Girl. Several of the boys and girls in our class have distinguished themselves in various sports, and we will long remember them.

And now, we leave the halls of dear old L.H.S. leaving and taking with us many cherished memories which will remain in our hearts forever.

Eighth Grade History

One happy-for-some, sad-for-others' day, in September, 1939, we, the Eighth grade of today, dressed in our Sunday best and marched off for our first day in school. We sat there straight and stiff, not knowing whether to smile a snagged grin or burst into tears. Some, such as Barbara Barrow, Ann Owsalt, and Betty Lawler, kept running off every few minutes only to be brought back by their mothers. But our first grade teachers, Mrs. McCall, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Woods, and Miss Hindricks, finally got us straightened out.

It must not have been so bad though, for here we are, a part of Lamesa High School for the first time, even though some had a hard time.

In the fifth grade one of the rooms gave a play with Aaron Bussel, Dwayne Lambert, Wayne Lambert, R. B. Robinson, Taylor Smith, G. W. Ringner, and Billy McCurdy dressed as girls, while that cute plump Mildred Sipes played "Pistol Packing Mama."

Around about the sixth grade we started changing rooms and having more teachers. Boy, did we feel proud as we marched quietly from room to room. We thought we were so big.

When we were in our last years of grammar school, Shirley Magill was our candidate for fifth grade Carnival Queen. Then in the seventh grade, Billie Ruth Isaacs was nominated. Our classes worked hard, but we were defeated both times.

As fully fledged seventh graders we gave several plays, some of which were: "Say It With Flowers" with Paula Keathley in the lead, "Tempest in the Teapot" with Delton Bailey in the lead. Other plays were "An Easter Parade", a pantomime which was very amusing, and the "Ghost Picnic". "What's Cooking" was given with Richard Kronce, Johnny Montgomery and Phyllis Martin in the leading roles. In the course of the play Richard was dressed as a fair young maiden with all the trimmings; this brought uproarious laughter from the audience.

In the county meet our boys and girls played baseball, taking high honors. Some of our star girl baseball players were Mary Lee Clauson, Bonnie Fields, Helen Ruth Harris, Mildred Hambrick, La Neal "Tank" Tankersley, Betty Braswell, Joyce Woodul and Reitha Mae Stanfield.

Johnny Montgomery, Delbert Dickinson, Billy McCurdy and Richard Koonce won the 440-yard relay race. Richard won also in chinning. In basketball, we had contests between rooms, and room 32 won the trophy. Our star players were Maurice Simmons, Delton Bailey, Johnny Corothy and Eldon Tyra. We had a pep squad to cheer the boys while playing basketball. The leaders were: Yuvonne McDonnell, Peggy Vaughn, and Nancy Scott from room 34; Melba Watson, "Tank" Tankersley and Evelyn Mills from room 33; Joyce Woodul, Reitha Mae Stanfield and Thelma Ann Winford from room 32; and Shirley Magill and Mary Elizabeth Clifton from room 31.

Now finally we are in high school with Keith "Tatsy" White as class president, I. V. Ferguson as vice-president, Bobbie Jo Shipp as secretary, and Bette Middlebrook as treasurer. Martin Burkhead and Judy Allen are our class reporters to the annual. Our Student Council members are Jean Kelso, I. V. Ferguson, Wilma Stovall and Reitha Mae Stanfield. Shirley Magill and Johnny Montgomery are class favorites.

As future freshmen we look forward with eager anticipation to our remaining four years in Lamesa High School.
